

HEIR PRESUMPTIVE TO STALIN IS A "MYSTERY" MAN

All-Out Birthday Tribute Paid to Him in Russia in January

HIGHLY ACCLAIMED

Hailed As "True Pupil of Lenin; Co-Adviser of Comrade Stalin"

The man listed in western diplomatic archives as the No. 1 heir presumptive to Premier Stalin's vast powers is somewhat of a mystery man. Allied diplomatic experts on Russian affairs are scanning every bit of information about this man, G. M. Malenkov. This is the second of three articles telling what they have learned.

By Kingsbury Smith
(European General Manager,
International News Service)

PARIS, Feb. 5.—(INS)—One of the reasons so much international speculation centers on Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov as potential heir to Joseph Stalin's mantle is the all-out birthday tribute paid him in Russia last month.

It was his 50th birthday, and Malenkov, deputy premier, Politburo member and personnel "boss" of Communist organizations, was acclaimed as never before.

In fact, the pudgy Communist leader received greater official homage than has been accorded to any Soviet dignitary except Stalin since World War II ended.

A prominently published communique of the central committee of the Soviet Communist party and Council of Ministers hailed him as a "true pupil of Lenin and a co-adviser of Comrade Stalin."

The statement also described Malenkov as "outstanding leader of the Communist party and the Soviet State" and as a "true son of the Soviet people" who devoted all his conscious life to the great cause of the party of Lenin and Stalin in the struggle for the victory of Communism.

Accompanying publication of this glowing tribute was a large photograph which was displayed on the front page of the entire Soviet press.

Bestowal of these honors on the man who once was the young private secretary of Stalin has strengthened the conviction of Allied diplomats in Moscow that Malenkov is the man to succeed Stalin.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Western Germany will not initial the European army pact or accept the contractual agreements restoring German sovereignty until "satisfactory" solutions have been reached on the Saar situation and on Bonn's membership in Nato. Chancellor Adenauer declared yesterday. It was feared that this latest manifestation of Germany's growing strength might seriously affect defense of West Europe.

The United States will make "specific proposals" on arms reduction and atomic control, the first meeting of the new United Nations Disarmament Commission was told. Allied spokesmen said Korean truce talks had moved closer to an armistice in the last few days and there was "less cause for pessimism," although many major issues remained unsettled. Test evacuation of Allied wounded from the front to a hospital ship has been successful and will be extended.

The Iranian Cabinet decided to close some foreign cultural institutions, including those of the United States.

Bristol's Auto Show: NEW MERCURY ENTIRELY DIFFERENT THIS YEAR

Cars May Now Be Seen And Test Driven at Hamm's Garage

125 H-P. V-8 ENGINE

Bristol automobile dealers are showing the very latest styles in motor cars. Models on exhibition include all of the well-known makes and the public is invited to call at the dealers' show-rooms.

The '52 Regular and Monterey models of Mercury automobiles can now be seen and test driven at Hamm's Sales and Service Mercury Agency located at old Route 13 and McKinley street.

The Mercurys are powered by a 125 H-p. V-8 engine, made by the largest volume producer of the V-type engine. The new cars are offered with three types of drives, the Merc-O-Matic Drive, Overdrive (in either Merc-O-Matic or Standard Drive) and Standard Drive.

The new Mercury is almost entirely different than last year's model, with a radically altered body construction that is more streamlined. In harmony with the exterior changes, the Mercury has a completely revamped dash, that brings everything within easy reach of the driver.

"The Mercury promises to be one of the fastest, most economical and good-looking cars on the highway this year," says Hamm.

WILL DIRECTS THAT TWO HORSES BE SHOT

John Markey Orders Shootings Be Attested To by At Least 2 Witnesses

LEAVES $55,000 ESTATE

DOYLESTOWN, Feb. 5.—Something new in the way of a will was probated here yesterday, which calls to the attention what Oscar Wilde, playwright and poet, once wrote when he penned, "Each man kills the thing he loves."

In this will, written by a Morrisville man, it is directed that his two horses be shot, after his death. Who died is that of John Markey, who died on January 28, and so directed in the will that has been probated here at the Register of Wills office. He left a personal estate of $40,000 and real estate valued at $15,000. The document was dated Jan. 3, 1928.

The will, written on a one-page sheet, directed that after his death, a mare and a horse, "be shot as quickly as possible." "The bodies are to be buried on his premises and the shooting of the two horses must be attested by at least two witnesses who shall make an affidavit."

"I do not want the horses abused in the hands of other people because they have never been used by anyone and have always had the best care and attention," wrote the testator.

George W. Burgner, 94 West Maple avenue, Morrisville, was named the executor and is also the residuary beneficiary.

This is one of the most unique wills ever probated by a Bucks County Register, C. Herbert Halderman, Register, said yesterday.

TV IN THEATERS

Up to now television shown experimentally in "movie" theaters here and there has been the same entertainment that comes into home TV sets on regular broadcast channels. But the motion picture industry—including theater outlets for the product—is looking forward to the time when there may be two kinds of TV, living-room and theater. Only theaters could bring to life the programs coming over new closed channels.

"This is only a possibility depending on more scientific experimentation. Time will be required to perfect equipment. It will also be necessary for the movie industry to persuade the Federal Communications Commission to set aside what is being called a "high-way in the sky" for the exclusive use of box office television.

The new concept suggests great changes and possibilities. Present type newsreels, with their time lag, might be dead ducks when the live stuff comes right into the theater. Chains of theaters could promote sports events or stage plays to be funneled direct to their audiences and nowhere else. First-run movie dramas could be shown simultaneously over a network without any shipment or handling of films.

It is no secret that the motion picture industry is finding television a tough and dangerous competitor. But phonograph and record makers have gained, not lost by radio broadcasting of hit tunes.

RADAR LOWERS THE BOOM

Radar, a wartime device which cost the enemy a great many men, is now being used in peacetime to save lives. With its aid, Connecticut state police have reduced speeding and cut highway accidents sharply since last summer.

It was tried out after the accident rate on Merritt Parkway, link between New York and New England, had mounted sharply. Four years earlier, only 30,000 cars a day had used the parkway. When the Sunday rate soared above 50,000, the accident rate soared too. Cars were speeding up to 90 miles an hour, and a few went as fast as 100 or 120 on straight stretches. One accident involved 22 cars.

The state police tried various experiments. One, which turned out not to be practical, was for two police cars to go abreast at the legal speed limit of 55 miles an hour, so that no cars could pass them.

The radar device, which is not concealed in any way and therefore is not classed as a speed trap, nevertheless shows drivers they cannot expect to get away with speeding even if there is no police car in sight. It accurately records the speed of any car and instantly relays the information to troopers a mile down the road, who signal it to halt.

As the result of all this scientific surveillance, it is hardly an exaggeration to say that the motorist on Merritt Parkway hasn't a chance—to cheat the law, that is. He has a much better chance of staying alive.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

(Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. The American Association for the Advancement of Science is, supposedly, a meritorious organization banded together for the purpose of promoting scientific studies.

Rep. Richard B. Vail, a tenacious Republican from Chicago, has undertaken to dust off a few cobwebs and show that there's more to the association than meets the eye.

What Representative Vail has found under the cobwebs is a strictly left-wing outfit whose trail shows a marked resemblance to that of the Communist party line. He's operating now on the theory that if these policies are publicized so that American scientists can realize what their top organization is doing, they'll see to it that the policies are changed.

I've had a few letters myself from members of various scientific organizations affiliated with the AAAs, complaining about its actions, and I'm sure that Mr. Vail is on the right track.

Vail's attention was forcibly called to the Association a few weeks ago when one Dr. Edward U. Condon was elected as its president. It so happens that Vail has had considerable experience with Dr. Condon, who, you may recall, used to be Director of the U. S. Bureau of Standards.

Condon is the man who was described by a subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee (at a time when Vail was a member of the committee) as "one of the weakest links in our atomic security chain." He is the same man who belonged to various front organizations even when he was a vital link in the atomic program; who consistently advocated that Russian scientists be given free rein in all our laboratories, even atomic; who contended that the woefully inadequate loyalty program was a completely unjustified witch-hunt; and who, according to Vail in a speech on the floor of the House, resigned his government job rather than face a loyalty investigation.

His predecessor as head of the AAAs was another individual with a long record as a joiner of front organizations. Prof. Kirtley F. Mather, of Harvard University, who still is chairman of the Association's executive committee and thus one of its biggest wheels.

Representative Vail uses no less than eight columns of the Congressional Record's small-size printing to detail Prof. Mather's affiliations and to describe the alleged Commy character of the organizations to which he belongs.

It makes interesting reading. But there's far too much of it to copy here. Suffice it to mention a few listed as out-and-out Commy groups with which he has been connected, such as the American League for Peace and Democracy, the Civil Rights Congress, the National Federation for Constitutional Liberties, the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee, the American Slav Congress, and several others. You can take it from there.

Taking note of several kindly references to the Association by the official Communist organ, The Daily Worker, Mr. Vail also calls attention to its continuing fight against the government loyalty program. Typical, he says, is a resolution adopted—and well publicized—a couple of years ago by the Association's special committee on civil rights.

The resolution followed the typical Commy line. It complained about giving any consideration to an individual's associations in connection with loyalty, charged that the program amounted to "subjection of the destinies of civilians to military tribunals," and said that under it, scientists "are constantly treated as objects of suspicion and possible calumny. The usual line. One of my correspondents suggests that "it is time that science here in America had a good airing as far as its Marxist tendencies are concerned." I agree. And it looks to me as though the AAAs were as good a place to start as any. You'll be hearing more about it.

The local Fellowship is also to act as host for Bucks County Sub-District Fellowship, February 19th. Plans were also made for this meeting. The officers of the M. Y. F. met in the church last evening to make other plans for the meeting on the 19th and for the weekly meeting to be held at seven p. m., next Sunday.

The council, or local officers, having met for that purpose, will present at the regular meeting on the 19th, plans for the next few months. The youth plan a regular Sunday night meeting with a worship service and discussion in charge of the youth. They will also present to the group suggestions for special events for the monthly business meetings and socials. All youth of the church and all who are friends between the ages of 12 and 23 years are welcome to these meetings, the youth announced.

enkov is being groomed by the Soviet dictator as his successor.

Western diplomacy first took serious note of Malenkov as a possible successor to Stalin when he was put on public display as Politburo chieftain at the 32nd anniversary of the Red revolution in November, 1949.

Standing in the glittering center of the parade that annually marks the anniversary of the October revolution, he made the major speech of the day. This was an honor accorded to his former rival, the late Andrei Zhdanov, in 1946, and to V. M. Molotov in 1947 and 1948.

Malenkov also was called upon in March, 1950, to make the wind-up speech of Politburo members in Moscow's marble hall of columns on the eve of the Russian elections. Since that time, he has been pictured more and more regularly on the side of Stalin in portraits of members of the Politburo.

When these developments were topped off by the showering of birthday attentions on Malenkov, the Allied diplomats in Moscow started sending reports to their home governments on this man of whom little is known in the western world.

Allied diplomatic interest in Stalin's possible successor is intense for two reasons:

1. Because of the possibility that the 72-year-old heart-ailing Soviet premier might suddenly die at any time.

2. Because of the great uncertainty hanging over the world as to what may happen to Russia's relations with the western world when Stalin has passed away.

There has been no confirmation of recently-published rumors that Stalin suffered a heart attack some weeks ago, and Allied diplomats are inclined to doubt it.

However, Stalin himself indicated that he was suffering from heart trouble in a telegram he sent this correspondent on Feb. 2, 1949.

Referring to the possibility of visiting Washington, he said: "Unfortunately, at present I am unable to realize this wish of mine since doctors strongly object to my undertaking any prolonged journey, especially by sea or air."

Thus, while Stalin might continue to live for a considerable number of years, on the other hand he might not.

A British Cabinet member told the writer a few days ago:

"What gives us cause for anxiety in respect to Stalin's successor is the danger that he might be the type of man who would resort to war in order to maintain his leadership over rivals for power in Russia."

"NERVE CENTER" WITH HEART INTEREST

Everybody knows the vital part that telephones play in the operation of a big, important training camp like Indiantown Gap.

But you can take it from the soldiers themselves that the telephone is even more essential in another way. It's a heart-warming link with home...an indispensable link with mothers and fathers, with wives and sweethearts.

Today, at Indiantown Gap, four new Telephone Centers are serving these soldiers. All have been placed in operation within the last year, with enough operators and switchboards to serve a good-sized town.

The rapid growth of telephone service at Indiantown Gap is typical of the growth of the telephone system throughout Pennsylvania. None of this expansion can be neglected, for it is essential to the military and naval establishments and to the mills and factories that keep them supplied, as well as to the homes which have sent the men to do the nation's work.

That's why there can be no let-up in our expansion plans. That's why 1952 must be the biggest building year in Pennsylvania's telephone history, cost what it may.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA--

All public, private and parochial schools in the Bristol area are invited to send news items for publication in this column which appears frequently.

Bensalem Township Elementary School

Typical of the modern reading class in the elementary schools of Bensalem township is that of Mrs. Nancy Walters, fifth and sixth grade teacher at Cornwells school. Contrary to former beliefs that "every child should have the same reader," Mrs. Walters, as have all teachers in the township, has followed the plan whereas a child is assigned to a basic reader according to his ability which is determined by a series of tests.

Testing a child to determine his instructional reading level manages to be an intricate process. The methods of testing are numerous but that of Dr. Emmett Betts of the Temple University Reading Clinic is here cited: "By means of oral reading, questions and answers, and a test of degree of comprehension, the classroom teacher is able to tell the reading ability of the pupil. The results of standardized tests and the records of reading experiences in the former grade are used to supplement the teacher's judgment and aids her in the selection of instructional materials that will insure a developmental reading program for each child."

As is the case in the fifth and sixth grade of Mrs. Walters, three basic readers are in use. Each contains selections of America's most outstanding literary personalities. Among the most notable whose selections appear are those of Nathaniel Hawthorne, Carl Sandburg, Pearl Buck, Cornelia Meigs, and Dr. Seuss.

Every elementary classroom has its own library. The school subscribes to those magazines published especially for children and pupils supplement their reading material by taking periodicals and daily newspapers from their homes. Encyclopedias and other reference books are available for pupil use and at designated times during the week, the sixth grade pupils at Cornwells School have access to the high school library.

The pupils of Miss Mary Kerns, room, Trevoise combination fifth and sixth grade, invited their parents to visit their classroom on Wednesday afternoon. Ella Ludlow, a sixth grade pupil, gave the welcoming address. Refreshments were served by the pupils. The following guests were in attendance: Mrs. Katherine Cutler, Mrs. John Herold, Mrs. Oliver James, Mrs. Eva Hurak, Mrs. Ida MacKelvey, Mrs. Anna Brant, Mrs. Virginia Anderson, Mrs. Joseph Kindy, Mrs. Veronica Haggerty, Mrs. Elinor Roeschen, Mrs. Norma Link, Mrs. Mae Hermie, Mrs. Thomas Bythway, Mrs. Alvina Esposito, Mrs. Haxel.

Teti, Mrs. Evelyn Carson, Mrs. Ella Ludlow, Mrs. Elsie Morgan and Mrs. Wayne Engle.

Third grade pupils of Mrs. Olevia Thomas, Cornwells school, are learning first-hand information regarding gold fish. It began one day in the classroom when a discussion was started on how fish breathe in the water. Goldfish were purchased and an aquarium was placed in the room. The children, since then, have taken an active interest in their newest "classmates." They have taken from home the sand, shells, and water plants necessary for a balanced aquarium. The third graders are constantly learning something new about their pets and already have gained a wealth of knowledge on their care. The aquarium has proven to be a most welcome addition to the classroom.

Authority is Split Into Two Agencies

to officials, was the complexity of the two different operations and the demands made upon the time of authority members. The construction of the new school would absorb all their off-duty attention, the authority declared.

In clarifying their stand the authority stated, "We feel that the immediate installation of the water and sewerage system is too important to be considered as secondary. It should receive full attention from another group of citizens in order that progress on it may be expedited in every possible way."

The present authority members submitted their resignations to the supervisor of Falls Township last week. The move was described as routine by authority members, brought about by legal requirements.

Present board members include: Walter DeLashmuth, chairman; John Custer, secretary; Albert McCabe, Willard Croft and Stanley Beuchler.

Reappointment of the school authority and establishment of a new water and sewer authority will take place Tuesday at a meeting of the township supervisors.

The sewer and water system to be built and operated by the new authority will serve the new community from Fairless Hills and adjacent territories "where economically feasible," it was learned.

According to spokesmen of the Danherst Corp., builders of the new village, the sewer authority itself will have the say-so on extending coverage of the system.

"Property values will be enhanced by reason of proximity to the system," said John W. Galbreath, Danherst president. "The plant itself will be the most modern science has been able to devise. There will be no objectionable factors in the operation of the plant in any possible way," he added.

Telephone Co. The problem, while serious, will exist only until the construction is completed, unless the zoning committee can discover an earlier solution.

It was decided to affect a change in the siren at the firehouse, so that it may be used by the Civil Defense Corps in Langhorne.

John R. May, councilman, stated that the council should anticipate improvements of Pine and Richardson aves. by the State Highway Dept. However, for the improvements to take place from 'curb to curb' it will be necessary for the residents with street frontage on Pine and Richardson, to construct curbing and sidewalks in front of their homes.

It was decided to adopt the budget at a special meeting next Monday evening at 7:30 p. m.

State Police Raid Dice Game in Bensalem

Sergeant, before whom they were arraigned in Langhorne, held the alleged principals in $1000 bail each for a further hearing next Tuesday at eight p. m.

Those held were Julius Lojeski, 40, reputed owner of the farm on which the plant was located; Joseph Carlo, 48, of Vandike st. near Benner; Frank Forte, 24, of Fitzwater st. near 5th; Harry Laquintano, 39, of Montague st. near Welsh rd., and Antonio Imbesi, 58, of Inlet st., Bristol.

Imbesi and Laquintano were charged with being common gamblers. The others were charged with setting up and maintaining a gambling establishment and conspiracy.

Three automobile loads of State police, under the direction of Sgt. Adrian McCarr, descended on the place in company with County Detective Frederick Kohler. Some were in civilian clothes.

The lookout was promptly grabbed. McCarr and his men marched through the front door of the plant after it had been broken down. The gamblers who tried to escape through windows were nabbed by other troopers surrounding the place. McCarr said the layout inside the plant was an elaborate one. There was about $430 cash on the big table. The pockets of the players yielded about $4300.

And they're as fresh to-day! Hard to believe? Not at all! Electricity can do wonderful things, as every modern housewife knows. Keeping foods fresh and palatable for out-of-season serving is only one of them.

Electricity itself cannot be stored, like food. The more wonder then that there is plenty of electric power ready at the snap of a switch for home, business, and industry whenever it is needed!

The miracle of electricity to operate a food freezer for the home, to drive machines in factories, to move public transportation is the miracle of American Free Enterprise.

Long-range planning has made available in this area ample electric power. There will be plenty of electricity in the years to come, if we are permitted to do the planning, the building, the growing . . . in the American way.

GEORGE SCHOOL OFFICIALLY OPENS NEW BUILDING

NEWTOWN, Feb. 6 — George School's new Alumni Physical Education Building was officially opened with a brief word of thanks by Principal Richard H. McFeely on Saturday, and the Buff and Brown athletes celebrated the occasion by taking verdicts from visiting St. Benedict's in wrestling and Admiral Farragut Academy in basketball.

"We are deeply grateful to the alumni, represented by Ray Wright here (President R. E. Wright of the George School Alumni Association), and the parents, represented by Knox Black (President K. C. Black of Parents-In-Council), for their share in making possible this wonderful building," Mr. McFeely said. Construction of the building was the result of gifts from hundreds of alumni, parents and friends during the school's last building fund drive.

Honored participants in the informal ceremony included, besides Wright and Black: Leon Baker, chief engineer at the school; Superintendent-Treasurer Howard Buckman; Vice-Principal William Eves; 3rd; Larry Shane, president of the Boys Athletic Association; Director of Boys Athletics Stanley B. Sutton; and Headley White, president of the senior class.

Undeclared in four previous starts, Coach Sutton's wrestlers made it five straight by out-scoring St. Benedict's School, Newark, N. J., 24-18. Key points in the victory were the first-period fall scored by Captain Kit Weir, of Langhorne, and the decision earned in the 168-pound class by Steve Harris, Philadelphia. Most sensational match of the day was the 51-second pin registered by Captain Gene D'Allesandro of the visitors, the New Jersey secondary school champ in his 123-pound class.

Coach Ed Thode's cagers won their fourth against five defeats this season when they rolled up a 17-5 first period bulge, then coasted the rest of the way to defeat Admiral Farragut Academy 62-37. High George School scorer was Bruce Campbell of Wynnewood, with 17 markers.

The girl basketballers of Coach "Bobby" Jamison started the victorious sports day by edging visiting Staten Island Academy, 22-21, to remain unbeaten, with four 1952 wins already registered.

BENSALEM HIGH TO PLAY 2 GAMES TONIGHT

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Feb. 5 — Bensalem Township High will play on its home court tonight meeting Pennsylvania School for Deaf in varsity and junior varsity games. First game will get under way at seven o'clock.

Coach Johnny Messinger will most likely start the following: Bob Whitfield, Russ Struble, Harry Robinson, Joe Mikelatis, and Al Dominiani.

Bristol High will be idle tonight, the varsity team meeting the faculty this afternoon.

In a Lower Bucks County League game, Neshaminy meets Morrisville on the latter's court.

HILLTOP OPENS SCORES VICTORY BY SINGLE POINT

After losing seven straight games, Hilltop A. C. opened its second round of the Bristol Basketball League with a one-point victory over Fifth Ward Sporting Club last night on the Goodwill Hose Company court. Final score was 44-43.

Hilltop did a fine job of "freezing" the ball in the final quarter. It held a 40-36 lead going into the last session and gradually built it up to 44-36 on a field goal by Esdale and fouls by Larry Auerweck and Al Benningfield.

Contented with an eight-point margin, the Hilltoppers put on a defensive act and kept passing the ball instead of shooting. Three fouls were waived so that more time would be killed. Fifth Ward crept up to 44-43 but time ran out.

Benningfield scored 11 points for the winning team with Don LeHuquet and Bill McDonnell having 9 each. The winning team had a 500 average from the foul line, clicking on 12 of its 24 free throws.

Fifth Ward outscored its foe from the field, 18-16, with Joe Costello getting five double-doubles. He also had a foul to give him eleven points. Joe Potenza tabbed eight points for the Warders.

PEAK AND CURRAN SLIT THE CORDS TO WIN GAME

"Sonny" Peak and "Bill" Curran slit the cords for 19 points each last night to lead Cornwells Boys Club to a 54-47 win over Lucisano Brothers of Tullytown in a Bristol Basketball League contest on the Goodwill Hose Company floor.

Both Peak and Curran had eight double-doubles and three fouls to total their points. Peak was held scoreless in the last frame. The Cornwells team played the entire fracas with five players and were careful not to foul, only nine personals being called on it.

Lucisano was off form and missed many shots. Mickey Stradling led it in scoring with 13 points with Dick Anderson getting 13. Johnny Paone was held to 10 points, eight of which were made in the second half.

The victory put the Cornwells team in a deadlock for fourth place.

to open the session with prayer. Councilmen in attendance were: George Forster, Orville Morris, Willard Bartoe, Edward Vansant and Harry Beck. Records were in charge of Mrs. Edward Black, secretary. The secretary reported sum of $4.90 due the borough from the State Workmen's Insurance Fund.

A representative of the Penn Valley Publishers presented to council the estimated costs of codifying borough ordinances, presented samples of bound codes of ordinances completed for another community, as well as bound copies of analysis of ordinances and amending and repealing ordinances.

Letter received from the borough solicitor, Lawrence Monroe, gave information regarding necessary steps which must be taken by any developer prior to acceptance of streets by borough council. That plans for opening of such streets must be approved by council was stressed, with materials, etc., to meet with council's specifications.

The secretary read the auditors' report in detail. Report was made by the president that a surveyor is to prepare sketches for proposed drainage plan of Ford avenue.

Possibility of taking advantage of sum of $25,000 offered by the state a few years ago for improvement of Main street, provided such is paved from curb to curb (section extending from Trenton avenue to Ford avenue) was discussed at length. One councilman expressed his opinion that Main street offers a "serious traffic hazard."

The highway committee was instructed to meet with the borough solicitor to consider the matter, then report to council at the March meeting. The State Highway Department will be contacted to ascertain if funds are still available toward this project.

Motion was passed for council to enter into a new contract with Ferdinand Reetz, Sr., for collection of trash and garbage, at the increased sum of $10 per month, or total of $50 monthly.

Council decided that the varying terms of one, two and three years to be served by members of the Zoning Board of Adjustment be determined by the trio on the board. The secretary was instructed to order 100 copies of the zoning ordinance and a like number of building or use permits and maps. These will be sold to any desiring such.

Borough treasurer, Miss Grace H. Illick, submitted her report, which showed balance in general fund of $1,265.70; sinking fund, $5,475.06; highway aid account, $98.60.

Report of Chief of Police Ernest Maret for January was as follows: 4, stop-sign violations; 1, reckless driving; 1, driving too fast for conditions; 1, no operator's card; 2, no owner's card; 1, passing at intersection; 2 trips to Doylestown with prisoners; 1 accident case; 1 parking violation; 22 hours of duty.

Orville Morris informed that a civilian defense exercise is scheduled for March 21st.

Bills ordered paid included: Ernest Maret, $22; Philadelphia Electric Co., $99.41; Ferdinand Reetz, trash and garbage collections, $40; fees for auditors, Mrs. Walter Jackson, Miss Margaret Perry, Mrs. Lewis K. Brunner, total $21.

Hailed As "True Pupil of Lenin; Co-Adviser of Comrade Stalin"

The man listed in western diplomatic archives as the No. 1 heir presumptive to Premier Stalin's vast powers is somewhat of a mystery man. Allied diplomatic experts on Russian affairs are scanning every bit of information about this man, G. M. Malenkov. This is the second of three articles telling what they have learned.

By Kingsbury Smith

International News Service)

PARIS, Feb. 5.—(INS)—One of the reasons so much international speculation centers on Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov as potential heir to Joseph Stalin's mantle is the all-out birthday tribute paid him in Russia last month.

It was his 50th birthday, and Malenkov, deputy premier, Politburo member and personnel "boss" of Communist organizations, was acclaimed as never before.

In fact, the pudgy Communist leader received greater official homage than has been accorded to any Soviet dignitary except Stalin since World War II ended.

A prominently published commune of the central committee of the Soviet Communist party and Council of Ministers hailed him as a "true pupil of Lenin and a co-adviser of Comrade Stalin."

The statement also described Malenkov as "outstanding leader of the Communist party and the Soviet State," and as a "true son of the Soviet people" who had devoted all his conscious life to the great cause of the party of Lenin and Stalin in the struggle for the victory of Communism.

Accompanying publication of this glowing tribute was a large photograph which was displayed on the front page of the entire Soviet press.

Bestowal of these honors on the man who once was the young private secretary of Stalin has strengthened the conviction of Allied diplomats in Moscow that Malenkov is the heir presumptive.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Western Germany will not initial the European army pact or accept the contractual agreements restoring German sovereignty until "satisfactory" solutions have been reached on the Saar situation and on Bonn's membership in Nato. Chancellor Adenauer declared yesterday. It was feared that this latest manifestation of Germany's growing strength might seriously affect defense of West Europe.

The United States will make "specific proposals" on arms reduction and atomic control, the first meeting of the new United Nations Disarmament Commission was told. Allied spokesmen said Korean truce talks had moved closer to an armistice in the last few days, and there was "less cause for pessimism," although many major issues remained unsettled. Test evacuation of Allied wounded from the front to a hospital ship has been successful and will be extended. The Iranian Cabinet decided to close some foreign cultural institutions, including those of the United States.

The $52,000,000,000 defense budget represents a paring by the Pentagon from original requests for $71,000,000,000 and further cuts by Congress would put the armed services below the minimum safety level, Defense Secretary Lovett said. He told a Senate Committee he was "troubled" by the program

LONESOME BOYS IN KOREA WANT TO HEAR FROM THE GIRLS "BACK HOME;" FORWARD ADDRESSES; NOT GETTING ENOUGH MAIL

By Staff Reporter

There are some lonesome boys in Korea—lonesome for letters from the fairer sex in their home-town.

We have it from the boys firsthand for they have written The Bristol Courier to this effect: "There is nothing like hearing from the girls back home."

Five of the said G. I.'s took pen and ink in hand on the 24th of January and took steps to make their desire for some nice, young pen pals of the fair sex known.

In their letter to The Courier they say in part: "Our vote is unanimous that we would like to hear from the fairer sex back home. We aren't getting enough mail, and since we rate it as our chief morale

Bristol's Auto Show: NEW MERCURY ENTIRELY DIFFERENT THIS YEAR

Cars May Now Be Seen And Test Driven at Hamm's Garage

125 H.P. V-8 ENGINE

Bristol automobile dealers are showing the very latest styles in motor cars. Models on exhibition include all of the well-known makes and the public is invited to call at the dealers' show-rooms.

The '52 Regular and Monterey models of Mercury automobiles can now be seen and test driven at Hamm's Sales and Service Mercury Agency located at old Route 13 and McKinley street.

The Mercurs are powered by a 125 Hp. V-8 engine, made by the largest volume producer of the V-type engine. The new cars are offered with three types of drives, the Merc-O-Matic Drive, Overdrive (in either Merc-O-Matic or Standard drive) and Standard Drive.

The new Mercury is almost entirely different than last year's model, with a radically altered body construction that is more streamlined. In harmony with the exterior changes, the Mercury has a completely revamped dash, that brings everything within easy reach of the driver.

"The Mercury promises to be one of the fastest, most economical and good-looking cars on the highway this year," says Hamm.

WILL DIRECTS THAT TWO HORSES BE SHOT

John Markey Orders Shootings Be Attended To by At Least 2 Witnesses

LEAVES $55,000 ESTATE

DOYLESTOWN, Feb. 5.—Something new in the way of a will was probated here yesterday, which calls to the attention what Oscar Wilde, playwright and poet, once wrote when he penned, "Each man kills the thing he loves."

In this will, written by a Morrisville man, it is directed that his two horses be shot, after his death. The will is that of John Markey, who died on January 28, and so directed in the will that has been probated here at the Register of Wills office. He left a personal estate of $40,000 and real estate valued at $15,000. The document was dated Jan. 3, 1928.

The will, written on a one-page sheet, directed that after his death, a mare and a horse, "be shot as quickly as possible." "The bodies are to be buried on his premises and the shooting of the two horses must be attested by at least two witnesses who shall make an affidavit."

"I do not want the horses abused in the hands of other people because they have never been used by anyone and have always had the best care and attention," wrote the testator.

George W. Burgner, 94 West Maple avenue, Morrisville, was named the executor and is also the residuary beneficiary.

This is one of the most unique wills ever probated by a Bucks County Register, C. Herbert Halderman, Register, said yesterday.

IS YOUR SCHOOL "IN THE NEWS"?

In opening its columns to all who have worthwhile news, The Bristol Courier plans far in advance for news from certain sources.

As early as last August 8th it set "wheels" in motion in preparation for receipt of news for the school column throughout the 1951-52 term. Letters were dispatched at that time to the superintendents, supervising principals or heads of schools in lower Bucks County, inviting them to have members of their staffs submit school news from time to time during the term.

Many of the public, private and parochial schools have responded well, with the result that numerous districts are represented. Names of countless pupils appear in activities of cooking and press clubs, play casts, student councils, etc. There are included accounts of trips to "zoos," historical points and other spots; information on release of report cards and examinations; and details of purchase of defense bonds.

Are you "in the know" when it comes to the schools of your district? The Courier school column will keep you informed.

If your school is not represented, The Courier again invites teachers or school heads in your districts to participate and thus keep their schools "on the map."

Report Reveals Vacuum Cleaning Machine, in His Hands, Came in Contact With 440-Volt Exposed Cable — Co-Workers, Firemen and Physician Make Valiant Efforts to Save Him

MORRISVILLE, Feb. 5.—A young man, father of a two-months-old daughter, was accidentally electrocuted at his place of employment, the Victor Chemical Co. plant, last night at 11.50.

The victim: LeRoy Norman Lessard, 24, S. Penna. avenue, formerly of Millville, N. J.

Efforts of a co-worker, who administered artificial respiration; of Morrisville firemen, who administered oxygen; and of a physician, who provided stimulants, were of no avail.

According to officials at the plant Lessard was attempting to disconnect the power cable leading to a vacuum machine, when it came in contact with a 440 volt cable which was exposed. The force of the current passed through his body; and a co-worker hurried to his rescue, turning off the current and applying artificial respiration.

Morrisville firemen arrived with oxygen, and a physician was summoned.

The body was removed to a local funeral home.

State Police of Langhorne barracks also investigated. Officers Auglass and Metroka responding to the call.

It is stated that it was raining at the time, that Lessard's shoes were wet, and that the concrete floor was also wet, due to workmen passing in and out of the room after being in the rain.

Lessard's wife and baby daughter survive. The young man had been employed by the firm for a month, being located in the process department. His wife is the former Joan Armstrong, her family residing here for 10 years.

HULMEVILLE TAX RATE SET SAME AS FOR '51

Budget Adopted; Ordinance Adopted Making Water St. A "One-Way" St.

DISCUSS MAIN STREET

HULMEVILLE, Feb. 5.—Hulmeville borough council, in session last evening, adopted the budget for 1952, and set the tax rate at 12 mills, the same as last year. The final hour of the councilmanic session was given over to consideration of the budget.

At this meeting, councilmen passed on second reading the ordinance making Water street a one-way thoroughfare. Arrangements were made for the placing of proper signs at entrance from Hulmeville street, and at the exit onto Main street, designating it as a one-way street. Water street was recently improved. Being a narrow thoroughfare, council decided to send traffic in one direction.

President George Bilger called upon the Rev. E. Clarendon Hyde, rector of Grace Episcopal Church.

TV IN THEATERS

Up to now television shown experimentally in "movie" theaters here and there has been the same entertainment that comes into home TV sets on regular broadcast channels. But the motion picture industry—including theater outlets for the product—is looking forward to the time when there may be two kinds of TV, livingroom and theater. Only theaters could bring to life the programs coming over new closed channels.
This is only a possibility depending on more scientific experimentation. Time will be required to perfect equipment. It will also be necessary for the movie industry to persuade the Federal Communications Commission to set aside what is being called a "highway in the sky" for the exclusive use of box office television.

The new concept suggests great changes and possibilities.
Present type newsreels, with their time lag, might be dead ducks when the live stuff comes right into the theater. Chains of theaters could promote sports events or stage plays to be funneled direct to their audiences and nowhere else. First-run movie dramas could be shown simultaneously over a network without any shipment or handling of films.

It is no secret that the motion picture industry is finding television a tough and dangerous competitor. But phonograph and record makers have gained, not lost by radio broadcasting of hit tunes.

RADAR LOWERS THE BOOM

Radar, a wartime device which cost the enemy a great many men, is now being used in peacetime to save lives. With its aid, Connecticut state police have reduced speeding and cut highway accidents sharply since last summer.

It was tried out after the accident rate on Merritt Parkway, link between New York and New England, had mounted sharply.
Four years earlier, only 30,000
cars a day had used the parkway.
When the Sunday rate soared above 50,000, the accident rate soared too. Cars were speeding up to 90 miles an hour, and a few went as fast as 100 or 120 on straight stretches. One accident involved 22 cars.

The state police tried various experiments. One, which turned out not to be practical, was for two police cars to go abreast at the legal speed limit of 55 miles an hour, so that no cars could pass them.

The radar device, which is not concealed in any way and therefore is not classed as a speed trap, nevertheless shows drivers they cannot expect to get away with speeding even if there is no police car in sight. It accurately records the speed of any car and instantly relays the information to troopers a mile down the road, who signal it to halt.

As the result of all this scientific surveillance, it is hardly an exaggeration to say that the motorist on Merritt Parkway hasn't a chance—to cheat the law, that is. He has a much better chance of staying alive.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.
(Copyright, 1952,
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The American Association for the Advancement of Science is, supposedly, a meritorious organization of scientists banded together for the purpose of promoting scientific studies.

Rep. Richard B. Vail, a tenacious Republican from Chicago, has undertaken to dust off a few cobwebs and show that there's more to the association than meets the eye.

What Representative Vail has found under the cobwebs is a strictly left-wing outfit whose trail shows a marked resemblance to that of the Communist party line. He's operating now on the theory that if these policies are publicized so that American scientists can realize what their top organization is doing, they'll see to it that the policies are changed.

I've had a few letters myself from members of various scientific organizations affiliated with the AAAS, complaining about its actions, and I'm sure that Mr. Vail is on the right track.

Vail's attention was forcibly called to the Association a few weeks ago when one Dr. Edward U. Condon was elected as its president. It so happens that Vail has had considerable experience with Dr. Condon, who, you may recall, used to be Director of the U. S. Bureau of Standards.

Condon is the man who was described by a subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee (at a time when Vail was a member of the committee) as "one of the weakest links in our atomic security chain." He is the same man who belonged to various front organizations even when he was a vital link in the atomic program; who consistently advocated that Russian scientists be given free rein in all our laboratories, even atomic; who contended that the woefully inadequate loyalty program was a completely unjustified witch-hunt; and who, according to Vail in a speech on the floor of the House, resigned his govern-

Newly-Organized M. Y. F. Selects Its Officers

At a meeting the newly-organized Methodist Youth Fellowship in Bristol Methodist Church, Sunday evening, members elected the following officers: Lillian Trockenbrod, president; Betsy Moss, vice-president; secretary, Barbara Antolchick; treasurer, Rose Mills; commissioners—worship and evangelism, Harold Mitchener; missions, Samuel Rogers; community service, Alfred and Arthur Mancuso; recreation, "Betty" Deitrick and Lydia Jones. The counselor for the Fellowship is Mrs. James S. Douglass, and she is assisted by the minister, the Rev. Ralph E. Proud, Jr.

Plans were made to send four young people to the North District Methodist Youth mid-winter institute at Stroudsburg, March 14-16. The local Fellowship is also to act as host for Bucks County Sub-District Fellowship, February 19th.

Plans were also made for this meeting. The officers of the M. Y. F. met in the church last evening to make other plans for the meeting on the 19th and for the weekly meeting to be held at seven p. m., next Sunday.

The council, or local officers, having met for that purpose, will present at the regular meeting on the 19th, plans for the next few months. The youth plan a regular Sunday night meeting with a worship service and discussion in charge of the youth. They will also present to the group suggestions for special events for the monthly business meetings and socials. All youth of the church and all who are friends between the ages of 12 and 23 years are welcome to these meetings, the youth announced.

enkov is being groomed by the Soviet dictator as his successor.

Western diplomacy first took serious note of Malenkov as a possible successor to Stalin when he was put on public display as Politburo chieftain at the 32nd anniversary of the Red revolution in November, 1949.

Standing in the glittering center of the parade that annually marks the anniversary of the October revolution, he made the major speech of the day. This was an honor accorded to his former rival, the late Andrei Zhdanov, in 1946, and to V. M. Molotov in 1947 and 1948.

Malenkov also was called upon in March, 1950, to make the wind-up speech of Politburo members in Moscow's marble hall of columns on the eve of the Russian elections.

Since that time, he has been pictured more and more regularly on the side of Stalin in portraits of members of the Politburo.

When these developments were topped off by the showering of birthday attentions on Malenkov, the Allied diplomats in Moscow started sending reports to their home governments on this man of whom little is known in the western world.

Allied diplomatic interest in Stalin's possible successor is intense for two reasons:

1. Because of the possibility that the 72-year-old heart-ailing Soviet premier might suddenly die at any time.

2. Because of the great uncertainty hanging over the world as to what may happen to Russia's relations with the western world when Stalin has passed away.

There has been no confirmation of recently-published rumors that Stalin suffered a heart attack some weeks ago, and Allied diplomats are inclined to doubt it.

However, Stalin himself indicated that he was suffering from heart trouble in a telegram he sent this correspondent on Feb. 2, 1949.

Referring to the possibility of visiting Washington, he said: "Unfortunately, at present I am unable to realize this wish of mine since doctors strongly object to my undertaking any prolonged journey, especially by sea or air."

Thus, while Stalin might continue to live for a considerable number of years, on the other hand he might not.

A British Cabinet member told the writer a few days ago:

"NERVE CENTER" WITH HEART INTEREST

Everybody knows the vital part that telephones play in the operation of a big, important training camp like Indiantown Gap.

But you can take it from the soldiers themselves that the telephone is even more essential in another way. It's a heart-warming link with home...an indispensable link with mothers and fathers, with wives and sweethearts.

Today, at Indiantown Gap, four new Telephone Centers are serving these soldiers. All have been placed in operation within the last year, with enough operators and switchboards to serve a good-sized town.

The rapid growth of telephone service at Indiantown Gap is typical of the growth of the telephone system throughout Pennsylvania. None of this expansion can be neglected, for it is essential to the military and naval establishments and to the mills and factories that keep them supplied, as well as to the homes which have sent the men to do the nation's work.

That's why there can be no let-up in our expansion plans. That's why 1952 must be the biggest building year in Pennsylvania's telephone history, cost what it may.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA--

All public, private and parochial schools in the Bristol area are invited to send news items for publication in this column which appears frequently.

Bensalem Township Elementary School

Typical of the modern reading class in the elementary schools of Bensalem township is that of Mrs. Nancy Walters, fifth and sixth grade teacher at Cornwells school. Contrary to former beliefs that "every child should have the same reader," Mrs. Walters, as have all teachers in the township, has followed the plan whereas a child is assigned to a basic reader according to his ability which is determined by a series of tests.

Testing a child to determine his instructional reading level manages to be an intricate process. The methods of testing are numerous but that of Dr. Emmett Betts of the Temple University Reading Clinic is here cited: "By means of oral reading, questions and answers, and a test of degree of comprehension, the classroom teacher is able to tell the reading ability of the pupil. The results of standardized tests and the records of reading experiences in the former grade are used to supplement the teacher's judgment and aids her in the selection of instructional materials that will insure a developmental reading program for each child."

As is the case in the fifth and sixth grade of Mrs. Walters, three basic readers are in use. Each contains selections of America's most outstanding literary personalities. Among the most notable whose selections appear are those of Nathaniel Hawthorne, Carl Sandburg, Pearl Buck, Cornelia Meigs, and Dr. Seuss.

Every elementary classroom has its own library. The school subscribes to those magazines published especially for children and pupils supplement their reading material by taking periodicals and daily newspapers from their homes. Encyclopedias and other reference books are available for pupil use and at designated times during the week, the sixth grade pupils at Cornwells School have access to the high school library.

The pupils of Miss Mary Kerns, room, Trevoce combination fifth and sixth grade, invited their parents to visit their classroom on Wednesday afternoon, Ella Ludlow, a sixth grade pupil, gave the welcoming address. Refreshments were served by the pupils. The following guests were in attendance: Mrs. Katherine Cutler, Mrs. John Herold, Mrs. Oliver James, Mrs. Eva Hurak, Mrs. Ida MacKelvey, Mrs. Anna Brant, Mrs. Virginia Anderson, Mrs. Joseph Kindy, Mrs. Veronica Haggerty, Mrs. Elinor Roesechen, Mrs. Norma Link, Mrs. Mae Hermle, Mrs. Thomas Bythway, Mrs. Alvina Esposito, Mrs. Haxel.

Toti, Mrs. Evelyn Carson, Mrs. Ella Ludlow, Mrs. Elsie Morgan and Mrs. Wayne Engle.

Third grade pupils of Mrs. Olevia Thomas, Cornwells school, are learning first-hand information regarding gold fish. It began one day in the classroom when a discussion was started on how fish breathe in the water. Goldfish were purchased and an aquarium was placed in the room. The children, since then, have taken an active interest in their newest "classmates." They have taken from home the sand, shells, and water plants necessary for a balanced aquarium. The third graders are constantly learning something new about their pets and already have gained a wealth of knowledge on their care. The aquarium has proven to be a most welcome addition to the classroom.

to officials, was the complexity of the two different operations and the demands made upon the time of authority members. The construction of the new school would absorb all their off-duty attention, the authority declared.

In clarifying their stand the authority stated, "We feel that the immediate installation of the water and sewerage system is too important to be considered as secondary. It should receive full attention from another group of citizens in order

The present authority members submitted their resignations to the supervisor of Falls Township last week. The move was described as routine by authority members, brought about by legal requirements.

Present board members include: Walter DeLashmuth, chairman; John Custer, secretary; Albert McCabe, Willard Croft and Stanley Beuchler.

Reappointment of the school authority and establishment of a new water and sewer authority will take place Tuesday at a meeting of the township supervisors.

The sewer and water system to be built and operated by the new authority will serve the new community from Fairless Hills and adjacent territories "where economically feasible," it was learned.

According to spokesmen of the Danherst Corp., builders of the new village, the sewer authority itself will have the say-so on extending coverage of the system.

"Property values will be enhanced by reason of proximity to the system," said John W. Galbreath, Danherst president. "The plant itself will be the most modern science has been able to devise. There will be no objectionable factors in the operation of the plant in any possible way," he added.

Langhorne To Put Dog Law Into Force

Telephone Co. The problem, while serious, will exist only until the construction is completed, unless

the zoning committee can discover an earlier solution.

It was decided to affect a change in the siren at the firehouse, so that it may be used by the Civil Defense Corps in Langhorne.

John R. May, councilman, stated that the council should anticipate improvements of Pine and Richardson avenues by the State Highway Dept. However, for the improvements to take place from 'curb to curb' it will be necessary for the residents with street frontage on Pine and Richardson, to construct curbing and sidewalks in front of their homes.

It was decided to adopt the budget at a special meeting next Monday evening at 7:30 p. m.

State Police Raid Dice Game in Bensalem

Sergeant, before whom they were arraigned in Langhorne, held the alleged principals in $1000 bail each for a further hearing next Tuesday at eight p. m.

Those held were Julius Lojeski, 40, reputed owner of the farm on which the plant was located; Joseph Carlo, 48, of Vandike st. near Benner; Frank Forte, 21, of Fitzwater st. near 5th; Harry Laquintano, 39, of Montague st. near Welsh rd., and Antonio Imbesi, 58, of Inlet st., Bristol.

Imbesi and Laquintano were charged with being common gamblers. The others were charged with setting up and maintaining a gambling establishment and conspiracy.

Three automobile loads of State police, under the direction of Sgt. Adrian McCarr, descended on the place in company with County Detective Frederick Kohler. Some were in civilian clothes.

The lookout was promptly grabbed. McCarr and his men marched through the front door of the plant after it had been broken down. The gamblers who tried to escape through windows were nabbed by other troopers surrounding the place.

McCarr said the layout inside the plant was an elaborate one. There was about $430 cash on the big table. The pockets of the players yielded about $4300.

"I picked them garden-fresh... last summer!"

And they're as fresh to-day! Hard to believe? Not at all! Electricity can do wonderful things, as every modern housewife knows. Keeping foods fresh and palatable for out-of-season serving is only one of them.

Electricity itself cannot be stored, like food. The more wonder then that there is plenty of electric power ready at the snap of a switch for home, business, and industry whenever it is needed!

The miracle of electricity to operate a food freezer for the home, to drive machines in factories, to move public transportation is the miracle of American Free Enterprise.

Long-range planning has made available in this area ample electric power. There will be plenty of electricity in the years to come, if we are permitted to do the planning, the building, the growing... in the American way.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Louis John Helm
Wilkinson Memorial Methodist Church, Croydon

Our Father, we gratefully acknowledge Thy continued loving kindness in protecting our sleeping and our waking, and in providing for our daily needs.

Help us to meditate upon Thyself—Thy majesty and power. Thy tender compassion, Thy grief at our sinfulness, Thy grace in our time of need. May every gift of Thine come as a messenger from the Throne, summoning us to deeper devotion in heart and life.

Help us to tread aright the unknown path of each new day. Lead Thou us on. Guide us in our perplexities, restrain us in our joys; comfort, guard and forgive us, for the sake of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

The South East District YMCA Committee has adopted a plan for establishing YMCA services in Lower Bucks County.

The plan calls for cooperation of all YMCA forces in Pennsylvania. It calls for special consideration by YMCA forces in the South East District. It provides for an expenditure of $86,000 in three years, involving the immediate employment of an associate district executive.

A meeting of outstanding YMCA laymen and secretaries of the district is being held this evening at the Norristown YMCA to review the plans and make some basic decisions.

Also attending will be the YMCA General Secretaries of Southeastern Pennsylvania; members of the South East District Committee; YMCA Board Presidents, U. S. Steel officials, W. Haines Kent, Gen'l Sec'y., of the State YMCA and O. E. Norbeck, Southeast District YMCA Executive Sec'y.

Lr. Makefield Supervisors Plan Road Improvements

During a meeting of Lower Makefield Township Board of Supervisors, last evening, plans were announced for paving Roelof road and the widening of Makefield road.

Harry S. Hoffman, secretary of the board, said work on Roelof road is scheduled to begin July 1, with reconstruction of Makefield road immediately following. The board will act as its own general contractor, Hoffman said.

Roelof road, extending from Makefield road to Big Oak road, a distance of about a mile, will be converted into an oil-bound stone road at an estimated cost of $20,000. Plans call for widening Makefield road from Falls township line to Yardley-Morrisville road. It will be extended from four to six feet from its present 16-foot width. The approximate cost will be $30,000.

The annual budget was discussed and is expected to be adopted March 5th. It is anticipated more police officers will be added to the force in the near future. The Township force now consists of one full time and two part-time police officers.

GEORGE SCHOOL OFFICIALLY OPENS NEW BUILDING

NEWTOWN, Feb. 6 — George School's new Alumni Physical Education Building was officially opened with a brief word of thanks by Principal Richard H. McFeely on Saturday, and the Buff and Brown athletes celebrated the occasion by taking verdicts from visiting St. Benedict's in wrestling and Admiral Farragut Academy in basketball.

"We are deeply grateful to the alumni, represented by Ray Wright here (President R. E. Wright of the George School Alumni Association), and the parents, represented by Knox Black (President K. C. Black of Parents-In-Council), for their share in making possible this wonderful building," Mr. McFeely said. Construction of the building was the result of gifts from hundreds of alumni, parents and friends during the school's last building fund drive.

Honored participants in the informal ceremony included, besides Wright and Black: Leon Baker, chief engineer at the school; Superintendent Howard Buckman; Vice-Principal William Eves, 3rd; Larry Shane, president of the Boys Athletic Association; Director of Boys Athletics Stanley B. Sutton; and Headley White, president of the senior class.

Undeclared in four previous starts, Coach Sutton's wrestlers made it five straight by out-scoring St. Benedict's School, Newark, N. J., 24-18. Key points in the victory were the first-period fall scored by Captain Kit Weir, of Langhorne, and the decision earned in the 165-pound class by Steve Harris, Philadelphia. Most sensational match of the day was the 51-second pin registered by Captain Gene D'Allesandro of the visitors, the New Jersey secondary school champ in his 123-pound class.

Coach Ed Thode's cagers won their fourth straight five defeats this season when they rolled up a 47-6 first period bulge, then coasted the rest of the way to defeat Admiral Farragut Academy 62-37. High George School scorer was Bruce Campbell of Wynnewood, with 17 markers.

The girl basketballers of Coach "Bobby" Jamison started the victorious sports day by edging visiting Staten Island Academy, 22-21, to remain unbeaten, with four 1952 wins already registered.

BENSALEM HIGH TO PLAY 2 GAMES TONIGHT

In a Lower Bucks County League game, Neshaminy meets Morrisville on the latter's court.

HILLTOP OPENS SCORES VICTORY BY SINGLE POINT

After losing seven straight games, Hilltop A. C. opened its second round of the Bristol Basketball League with a one-point victory over Fifth Ward Sporting Club last night on the Goodwill Hose Company court. Final score was 44-43.

Hilltop did a fine job of "freezing" the ball in the final quarter. It held a 40-36 lead going into the last session and gradually built it up to 41-36 on a field goal by Esdale and fouls by Larry Auerweck and Al Benningfield.

Confronted with an eight-point margin, the Hilltoppers put on a defensive act and kept passing the ball instead of shooting. Three fouls were waived so that more time would be killed. Fifth Ward crept up to 44-43 but time ran out.

Benningfield scored 11 points for the winning team with Don LeHuquet and Bill McDonnell having 9 each. The winning team had a .590 average from the foul line, clicking on 12 of its 24 free throws.

Fifth Ward outscored its foe from the field, 18-16, with Joe Costello getting five double-deckers. He also had a foul to give him eleven points. Joe Potenza tabbed eight points for the Warders.

PEAK AND CURRAN SLIT THE CORDS TO WIN GAME

"Sonny" Peak and "Bill" Curran slit the cords for 19 points each last night to lead Cornwells Boys Club to a 54-47 win over Lucisano Brothers of Tullytown in a Bristol Basketball League contest on the Goodwill Hose Company floor.

Both Peak and Curran had eight double-deckers and three fouls to total their points. Peak was held scoreless in the last frame. The Cornwells team played the entire fracas with five players and were careful not to foul, only nine personals being called on it.

Lucisano was off form and missed many shots. Mickey Stradling led it in scoring with 13 points with Dick Anderson getting 13. Johnny Paone was held to 10 points, eight of which were made in the second half.

The victory put the Cornwells team in a deadlock for fourth place.

to open the session with prayer. Councilmen in attendance were: George Forst, Orville Morris, Wilbur Bartoe, Edward Vansant and Harry Beck. Records were in charge of Mrs. Edward Black, secretary. The secretary reported sum of $4.90 due the borough from the State Workmen's Insurance Fund.

A representative of the Penn Valley Publishers presented to council the estimated costs of codifying borough ordinances, presented samples of bound codes of ordinances completed for another community, as well as bound copies of analysis of ordinances and amending and repealing ordinances.

Letter received from the borough solicitor, Lawrence Monroe, gave information regarding necessary steps which must be taken by any developer prior to acceptance of streets by borough council. That plans for opening of such streets must be approved by council was stressed, with materials, etc., to meet with council's specifications.

The secretary read the auditors' report in detail. Report was made by the president that a surveyor is to prepare sketches for proposed drainage-plan of Ford avenue.

Possibility of taking advantage of sum of $25,000 offered by the state a few years ago for improvement of Main street, provided such is paved from curb to curb (section extending from Trenton avenue to Ford avenue) was discussed at length. One councilman expressed his opinion that Main street offers a "serious traffic hazard." The highway committee was instructed to meet with the borough solicitor, to consider the matter, then report to council at the March meeting. The State Highway Department will be contacted to ascertain if funds are still available toward this project.

Motion was passed for council to enter into a new contract with Ferdinand Reetz, Sr., for collection of trash and garbage, at the increased sum of $10 per month, or total of $50 monthly.

Council decided that the varying terms of one, two and three years to be served by members of the Zoning Board of Adjustment be determined by the trio on the board. The secretary was instructed to order 100 copies of the zoning ordinance and a like number of building or use permits and maps. These will be sold to any desiring such.

Borough treasurer, Miss Grace H. Illick, submitted her report, which showed balance in general fund of $1,265.70; sinking fund, $5,475.06; highway aid account, $98.60.

Report of Chief of Police Ernest Maret for January was as follows: 4, stop-sign violations; 1, reckless driving; 1, driving too fast for conditions; 1, no operator's card; 2, no owner's card; 1, passing at intersection; 2 trips to Doylestown with prisoners; 1 accident case; 1 parking violation; 22 hours of duty.

Orville Morris informed that a civilian defense exercise is scheduled for March 21st.

Bills ordered paid included: Ernest Maret, $22; Philadelphia Electric Co., $99.41; Ferdinand Reetz, trash and garbage collections, $40; fees for auditors, Mrs. Walter Jackson, Miss Margaret Perry, Mrs. Lewis K. Brunner, total $21.
